F.A.O. REACH ADMINISTRATOR

The following statement has been issued to clarify the position of Sensing Devices LTD in relation to compliance with the European Regulation "REACH" (Regulation evaluation and Authorisation of Chemicals) which entered into force on June 1' 2007.

As a company Sensing Devices Ltd in conjunction with our raw material suppliers fully support and promote compliance with the requirements of REACH, and it is our intention as a matter of policy to fully comply with the associated legal requirements.

Sensing Devices Ltd after assessment of our responsibilities in compliance with the REACH directives are classed as a downstream user being predominantly a formulator within the scope of our business operations, and therefore we are not required to pre-register or register any raw materials which we use within formulations for our finished goods.

We are however obliged to ensure that our raw material suppliers have pre-registered any identified materials that fall within the scope of REACH, and have requested confirmation of this taking place as per the regulation requirements.

We would like to assure all customers that we are actively working within the scope of the REACH directives to ensure a continued compliant supply of our business services to you, however should you require any clarification or further assistance on the subject matter then please contact the Company.

For and on behalf of the Company.

John Halstead,
Managing Director
